BANKERS ENJOYED A GENUINE GOOD TIME

GROUP I MET IN THIS CITY YESTERDAY

GREENVILLE NEXT

About 100 Bankers, Representing 24 Institutions, Were In Anderson Yesterday

About 100 bankers came to Anderson yesterday for the meeting of Group 1 of the South Carolina Bankers Association and they had a royal good time during their stay in this city. A majority of the bankers reached the city at noon and from that time on there was not a moment during the day when some event of interest was not going on.

Group 1 is composed of Anderson, Greenville, Oconee and Pickens counties and it meets twice a year.

The meeting yesterday was called to order at 3:30 o'clock in the rooms of the Anderson chamber of commerce. B. B. Gossett, the chairman of this group, was unable to be present on account of the fact that one of his children was critically ill and the chair was accepted by Arthur L. Mills of the Fourth National Bank of Greenville. Dr. W. H. Frazer, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Anderson delivered the invocation following which Mayor Lee G. Holleman, president of the People Bank of Anderson, delivered an address of welcome on behalf of the city of Anderson and Anderson's banks. Mayor Holleman said that he hoped the group would again come to Anderson as soon as it could be arranged.

The roll call by the secretary showed that 21 banking institutions in the counties named had representatives present. The minutes of the last meeting, held in Greenville, were read and approved, following which the election of officers for the ensuing term was taken up. It resulted as follows: Chairman, A. L. Mills of Greenville; Vice-Chairman, Walter Greer of Belton; Secretary, J. E. Wakefield of Piedmont.

The next question taken up was the collection of a meeting place for November. Mayor Holleman on the part of Anderson invited the bankers to this city and Mr. Beatrice of Greenville invited the group to come to his city. The body unanimously accepted the invitation tendered by Greenville and the next meeting will be held here in November. The chairman explained that Mr. Colwell of New York city, on the program for an address, had telegraphed his regrets at being unable to attend the meeting. He had only time enough to get from New York to Atlanta, where he is to address the Georgia Bankers Association today. Mr. McAdams of Richmond, also on the program for an address, was detained in Richmond and could not be present but sent a splendid paper on "The Effect that Recent Measures Will Have on the Banks." This paper was read before the body by Mr. Beattie of Greenville and made a deep impression. Dr. Easley, who was another speaker for the occasion, was also absent, although the body had expected until the last minute that the Beasley man would be present.

Lewis W. Parker of Greenville was introduced to the body and he received a warm welcome. Mr. Parker discussed the question "The Duke Warehouse Plan" and those who heard his talk yesterday pronounced it splendid. Mr. Parker succeeded in giving his hearers a clearer insight into the Duke plan than any of them had ever entertained. The speakers began by saying that he was happy to see so many of the younger bankers in attendance at the meeting and taking such an active part in the affairs of the present. He said that the Duke plan in regard to warehouses was nothing new, that it was merely framed in some new clothes and that it was the same system as practiced in other countries for some years.

required sum of money equivalent to the value of the cotton at a low rate of interest, some times as low as two and three-fourths per cent. This is upon the basis of strong credit assisting weak credit.

The speaker said that he considered the scheme to be a great one and that its originator, J. B. Duke, was a great man for having thought of the happy idea and bringing it to this country. He said that Mr. Duke is the greatest merchant that America has produced in a generation.

Mr. Parker said that he believed the Duke plan would prove to be a magnificent relief to the industrial houses of the South and pointed out that when the new plan went into execution the manufacturing plants of the South would be able to keep their money in their own local banks.

A member of visiting bankers were invited to address the meeting, among these being D. A. Augustine of Richmond; A. K. Parker of Richmond; Mr. Terrell of Richmond and Thomas Hill of Baltimore. Each of these gentlemen made comments on the growth of the Piedmont section of South Carolina and Mr. Hill made a number of complimentary references to Anderson's growth since his last visit.

H. H. Watkins urged the bankers to all give close study to the new "Negotiable Instruments Law" now in effect in this State, and told his hearers that this law was of great importance.

Ivy Mauldin, State Bank Examiner, assured the group that he was happy over being present and said that no set of bankers in the State could surpass those of group 1 for real ability and efficiency.

Thomas Davis of the Peoples Bank of Greenville presented a petition urging that J. W. Norwood, president of the Norwood National Bank of Greenville be appointed as a director in the Class A Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond and the resolution as followed was unanimously adopted.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond will serve the States of North and South Carolina, and will be called on from time to time to discount paper originating in these two States. Manifestly it would be to the advantage of the district for the Reserve Bank when in the market for commercial paper to give preference to such paper originating in its own district. We therefore believe that one of the directors elected to serve should be familiar with conditions and credits in the lower section of the district.

"Considering his many fine qualities as a man, his clear judgment and large experience in business and financial matters, it is the opinion of this meeting that no man is more ably fitted to serve as a director in Class A of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond than Mr. J. W. Norwood, President of the Norwood National Bank Greenville, S. C. There is probably no banker in North or South Carolina whose knowledge of business conditions, judgment as to the value of every type of collateral and wide business acquaintance, better fits him to represent the interests of the member banks."

Believing that Mr. Norwood is well qualified to serve as a director in this Federal Bank, the members of Group No. 1, at this meeting, endorsed him as a member in Class A of the Board of Directors of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, and we urge all member banks to instruct their electors to vote for him in this connection.

In addition to this, on motion of Col. Watkins, a committee consisting of Chairman Mills, B. B. Gossett and J. E. Wakefield was appointed to use personal efforts in having Mr. Norwood appointed to this position.

A number of announcements were made by Mayor Holleman, following which an adjournment took place at 5:30 o'clock. Numerous automobiles had been furnished by the people of Anderson and the visitors were carried on a tour of the city. All the points of interest in and around Anderson were pointed out and for an hour the bankers had a delightful time.

BANQUET TO COME

The buffet supper at Maple hall last night was one of the most enjoyable affairs of its kind ever held in Anderson. Plates had been provided for 100 and every chair was filled, notwithstanding the fact that a few of the visiting bankers had already departed.

Lee G. Holleman presided in his usual happy manner and under every one of the visitors feel thoroughly at home in the first few minutes.

The supper was served by Audrey King and Mr. King acquitted himself in the style. Numbers of the visitors said that they had never enjoyed a supper of this kind more than they did the occasion last night.

A number of extemporaneous addresses were heard during the evening, among those speaking being: R. E. Ligon of Anderson, Craig Mitchell of Philadelphia, E. V. Taylor of Charlotte, W. F. Augustine of Richmond, L. F. Terrell of Richmond, W. S. Lee of Charlotte, A. L. Mills of Greenville and Capt. J. M. Mauldin, State Bank Examiner.

The supper was completed shortly before 9 o'clock and every man in attendance expressed himself as having enjoyed the visit to Anderson. Most of the delegates left on the 9 o'clock train for their homes, although a few remained in the city for the night and these will depart this morning.

Cochran Case

Was Dismissed. Magistrate Broadwell yesterday called the case of John R. Cochran, charged with an assault with a pistol. Attorneys representing Mr. Cochran were present and said that they were ready for trial but no one appeared for the prosecution and the Magistrate therefore dismissed the case, because of a lack of prosecution. W. W. Russell swore out the warrant for Mr. Cochran's arrest, some weeks ago. Mr. Cochran was acquitted by a jury in the recorder's court.

From Lebanon

The Lebanon Academy and the Lebanon High School baseball team played a good game at Bonna Vista park yesterday. The Academy boys winning by a score of 4 to 2. The boys from Lebanon played more ball and if they had had a little more practice they would have improved on what was really a splendid exhibition. The Frazer boys seemed to have tightened up considerably since last they were seen at Bonna Vista and played better ball than they ever had before.

Hot Wind

Of Summer. Anderson people say that Summer is here and dare any doubting Thomases or unbelievers to say that it isn't. One man said yesterday that he could furnish proof positive about Summer being here for the simple reason that he had just returned from a trip to the country and that all along the trip he could feel the hot wind blowing in his face, which always indicates that Summer is here. He says that this wind is officially designated as "The Hot Wind of Summer." Far be it from any one to question his knowledge about weather conditions, therefore it is admitted that Summer is at least here.

Nurses Seen

Will Graduate. Miss Jessie DeWittworth and Miss Annie Duckworth left yesterday for Atlanta where they go to be present at the graduating exercises of the Atlanta Training School for Nurses. Miss Little Duckworth is to be one of the graduates and is a sister of the two young ladies making the trip from Anderson for the event. This is the first annual exercises to be held by the institution and it is understood that many arrangements have been made for the affair by the authorities of the school.

White Supplies

Mr. Miller had three stores in Philadelphia and New York and they are very pretty indeed. It is a difficult matter for one to tell the stores from Anderson and they are really of considerable value. Mr. Miller says that they are plentiful in the portion of the country. He has had a large number sent in various shapes and styles.

Christmas Held

Baseball Game

Friday Afternoon. Baseball fans in Anderson are looking forward with considerable pleasure to the game to be played at Bonna Vista park tomorrow afternoon between the Anderson High School and Furman Fitting school. The local high school team has been playing brilliant ball of the last few weeks and there is little doubt about their being able to scalp the Baptists from Greenville. It is expected that the splendid showing made by Anderson against B. M. I. last week, in which the local boys lost by a score of 1 to 0, will bring out the biggest crowd of fans seen this season at Bonna Vista.

Mrs. Sloan Is Critically Ill

Mrs. Sallie T. Sloan is critically ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Sloan.

Little Bag Has History

Made from the Cloth Off Furniture in Mexican Castle in 1846.

Mr. J. Olin Sanders, deputy sheriff here, has in his possession a little bag, which has an interesting history. The bag was made by deputy Sanders' second cousin the late Wash Sanders of Fairfield county, who was a soldier in the Mexican war in 1846. Wash Sanders secured the cloth from which the bag was made off of some furniture which he found in a Mexican castle after he and his comrades had tunneled through the thick wall to attack a bunch of Mexicans. After putting the Mexicans to rout Mr. Sanders went along with many of his comrades as souvenirs and for use some of the cloth which was being used to protect the camp from discovery.

Mr. Sanders used his portion of the cloth to make a small bag in which he carried his coffee through the remaining months of service before the end came. He came back to the hope that before the war was really ended, besides bringing back the little red bag, Mr. Sanders also brought from Mexico with him a dog of ordinary pedigree, but which had become attached to him. The dog's name was "Max" deriving its name from a contraction of the name of the country from whence he was brought.

Mr. Sanders was a first cousin of Mrs. Lizzie Sanders, mother of deputy sheriff Sanders, who resides on South Main street. She is now in her 70th year.

The mother of every child on the cradle roll is invited and urged to be present at the service. An interesting program has been prepared and it is of special interest to the mothers.

Committee Meeting. The city democratic executive committee is called to meet Friday morning at 5 o'clock in the office of Hord & Sullivan to arrange for a city primary election.
